Jala the Illustrious

Over 2 and a half centuries ago, Jala was the wife of a powerful Sultan. They ruled over their sultanate, “Arcania”. Until one day when a mysterious sage wandered in from the vast desert. This sage offered to turn the Sultan into the most powerful ruler who ever lived, as well as ensure that his kingdom thrives. In order to do so, however, he would have to part with his beloved. The power-hungry sultan eagerly agreed. The sage revealed an ancient vase and began chanting his spell. He bound Jala to the vase, granting her immortality, and the ability to magically fulfill any request, but she was now trapped in the vase forever. She would remain enslaved in this way for over 200 years, and seven generations of sultans. Until Arcania fell to ruin due to a war and Jala’s vase hasn’t been seen since.
